A Mindful Approach

At Under Canvas, our mission is to inspire connections with extraordinary places, people, and the planet by enhancing access to the outdoors. We fulfill that mission by taking a Mindful Approach to everything we do – from our sustainability efforts, to the design choices we make, to the experiences we curate for our guests. Here are just some of the ways our Mindful Approach comes to life at our camps.

Protecting the Night Sky

We have joined forces with DarkSky International, the global authority on light pollution, to set the standard in the industry by enhancing our sky quality, minimizing our lighting impact, and educating others on the importance of protecting the night sky. See the following pages to learn more about our DarkSky efforts and certifications.

Thoughtful Innovation

We employ thoughtful enhancements across our camps designed to elevate the guest experience – through culinary innovation, curated adventure programming, and a localized design aesthetic that reflects the surrounding natural environment.

Resource Conservation

We conserve water and energy at our camps by using pull-chain showers, faucets that automatically shut off, low-flow toilets, and a towel reuse program. We also offer Electric Vehicle charging stations at select camps so guests can recharge their electric vehicles.

Unplug and Recharge

Wi-Fi is intentionally not offered to our guests, so that they can disconnect from technology and reconnect with others.

Land Conservation

Under Canvas destinations are designed to minimize disturbance and maximize open space. As such, we maintain dedicated, undisturbed green spaces at each camp.

In Good Company

We partner with brands that align with our mission and demonstrate the same care for our planet. These include West Elm, whose furnishings support sustainable initiatives; lululemon, which has committed to 100% renewable electricity for its owned and operated facilities; and EO, whose plant-based bath products are made in a zero-waste facility.

Join us in helping to protect the natural environments we love!

We Own The NIGHT

First DarkSky-Certified Resorts in the World

In August 2023, Under Canvas Lake Powell - Grand Staircase became the first-ever DarkSky-certified lodging property in the world. Today, six camps in the Under Canvas collection—including Under Canvas Bryce Canyon, Grand Canyon, Lake Powell - Grand Staircase, Moab, Zion, and Yosemite plus ULUM Moab—are officially DarkSky-certified and setting the standard in the industry in terms of reducing light pollution and protecting the night sky.

DarkSky Certifications

The International DarkSky Lodging certification recognizes accommodations that possess an exceptional quality of starry nights and a nighttime environment preserved through onsite DarkSky-approved lighting, education, and advocacy. The following requirements, among others, are necessary to be DarkSky certified:

-  The property must have a pre-certification dark sky reading of 21.2 stellar magnitudes per square arcsecond (mpsas) or greater, or be located within a currently designated DarkSky Park, Sanctuary, or Reserve.
-  The Milky Way must be visible to the unaided eye, under qualifying dark sky conditions.
-  There may not be any nearby artificial sources that yield significant glare.
-  The property must have a written report outlining the threatened and endangered species in the area, and what is being done to minimize the lighting impact on those species.
-  The property must have a Lightscape Management Plan (LMP) and provide a list of lighting inventory that meets the minimal lighting requirements.

We are honored to be the first DarkSky-certified properties in the world and hope that our efforts will encourage others (including companies, organizations, and individuals) to join us in protecting and preserving the night sky for future generations.

We Own The NIGHT

Did You Know?

Light pollution affects more than our ability to see the stars at night. In fact, the impacts of light pollution extend from humans to plants to animals and beyond. Here are just some of the ways that protecting the night benefits living things around the world.

Each year, artificial light disrupts millions of birds' migratory schedules, causing them to leave their homes too early or too late in the season, and thereby miss ideal conditions for nesting. In addition, birds that navigate by moonlight and starlight can wander off course when the sky is polluted. In fact, millions of birds die every year by colliding into needlessly illuminated buildings.

Artificial light at night disrupts the seasonal cycle of plants and trees. It throws off a plant's response to the change of seasons and prevents many trees from adjusting to seasonal variations. This, in turn, has implications for the wildlife that depend on plants and trees for their natural habitat.

Fireflies, which used to cover much of North America from May through July, have been devastated by light pollution. Relying on complete darkness to perform their mating rituals, fireflies have retreated into the last remaining dark areas and decreased their overall population by as much as 90 percent.

One million sea turtle hatchlings die each year in Florida due to skyglow from urban areas.

New research links the decline of many species with light pollution, including bats, bees, coral, and songbirds. 15 million tons of CO₂ are emitted each year from residential outdoor lighting alone. A minimum of 600 million trees would need to be planted annually to offset this waste.

Breakfast and Dinner

Under Canvas Yosemite offers seasonal food and beverages that prioritize locally sourced ingredients from nearby purveyors. À la carte breakfast and dinner items are served daily in Under Canvas Mount Yosemite's lobby dining area. Grab-n-go lunch and snack items are available for purchase in the lobby tent, as well.

Our Mission

As stewards of the natural environments in which we operate, we are committed to minimizing our impact on the land and following "Leave No Trace" practices. We ask for your partnership in making this mission possible by placing your dining wares, food waste, and recyclables in the receptacles indicated around camp, and we ask that you leave nothing but footprints when venturing in the outdoors.

In Good Company

At Under Canvas, we offer an ever-changing array of food and beverage programming designed to bring people together in the outdoors. From social beverage hours in the lobby to evening s'mores by the fire, we cherish moments ripe with flavor and enjoyed in good company. To learn more about our culinary offerings, ask a Guest Experience Coordinator in the lobby tent.

Under Canvas Adventures

Welcome to Yosemite! There are endless means of exploring the iconic landscape that surrounds our camp. Whether you wish to adventure by trail, on a mountain bike, in a kayak, or by horseback, we can help you design the perfect itinerary for you.

Whitewater Rafting

WALK AMONG GIANTS

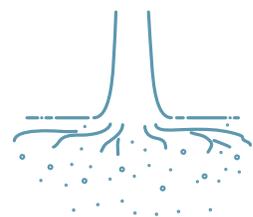

Yosemite's giant sequoias, some soaring over 200 feet and reaching up to 290 feet, dominate the park's landscape. In Mariposa Grove, over 500 mature trees—including the Grizzly Giant and Fallen Monarch—stand as natural monuments. Their timeless presence inspires awe and provides visitors with unforgettable experiences amid ancient, majestic forests.

Revered by indigenous peoples and discovered by pioneers like Galen Clark, Yosemite's sequoias sparked America's conservation movement. Protected since Lincoln's 1864 legislation, these giants embody national heritage. Historic elements, such as carved tunnel trees, connect visitors to a rich legacy of wilderness preservation and early tourism in Yosemite.

Adapted to the Sierra Nevada's climate, giant sequoias feature thick bark and extensive, shallow roots that capture vital water. Fire—both natural and prescribed—clears competing growth and aids seed dispersal. Ongoing restoration projects help maintain this complex ecosystem, ensuring the sequoias endure amid climate challenges and environmental change.

Yosemite is home to three remarkable sequoia groves, with Mariposa Grove—the largest—featuring iconic trees and easily accessible trails near the South Entrance. In contrast, Tuolumne and Merced Groves provide quieter, more intimate experiences. Each grove's unique trail system reflects the park's enduring commitment to preserving its natural heritage.

Emergency Procedures

In case of an emergency, please alert emergency services as fast as possible by calling 911. Please state your tent number and our address:
30801 Hardin Flat Rd, Groveland, CA 95321

In the event of a fire

Please evacuate your tent and alert camp personnel immediately. Please assemble in our main parking lot and follow instructions from camp personnel.

Severe weather procedures

In the event of severe weather or other emergencies, camp personnel may ask you to evacuate your tent and seek shelter inside your car or other safe location. An air horn will be blown as a sign for you to leave your tent and head to safety. Please note all of our tents have been engineered to be safe in heavy storms and high winds.

Innkeepers Code

Chapter 34-34

Negligently causing fire in lodging establishments as misdemeanor – posting of law.

Any person who negligently causes a fire in any part of any lodging establishment, so as to endanger life or property in any way, or to any extent, is guilty of a Class 2 misdemeanor.

43-40-1. Liability of innkeeper or hotel keeper for loss of or injury to property of guest.

No innkeeper or hotel keeper, whether individual, partnership, or corporation, who constantly has in the inn or hotel a metal safe or suitable vault in good order and who keeps on the doors of the sleeping rooms used by guests suitable locks or bolts, and on the transoms and windows of the rooms suitable fastenings and who keeps a copy of this section printed in distinct type constantly and conspicuously posted in each guest room, is liable for the loss or injury suffered by any guest, unless the guest offered to deliver any valuable property to the innkeeper or hotel keeper for custody in the metal safe or vault, and the innkeeper or hotel keeper omitted or refused to take it and deposit it in the safe or vault for custody and to give the guest a receipt. However, the keeper of any inn or hotel is not obliged to receive from any one guest for deposit in the safe or vault any property exceeding a total value of three hundred dollars, and is not liable for any excess of such property, whether received or not.

43-40-5. Personal property of guest not deposited for safekeeping--Liability of innkeeper or hotel keeper--Limitation as to amount--Exceptions.

The liability of the keeper of any inn or hotel, whether individual, partnership, limited liability company, or corporation, for loss of or injury to personal property placed by any guest under the keeper's care, other than that described in §§ 43-40-1 to 43-40-4, inclusive, is that of a depository for hire, except that if the loss or injury is caused by fire not intentionally produced by the innkeeper or the innkeeper's servants, the innkeeper is not liable. In no case may the liability exceed the sum of one hundred fifty dollars for each trunk and its contents, fifty dollars for each valise and its contents, and ten dollars for each box, bundle, or package, and contents, so placed under the innkeeper's care, and all other miscellaneous effects, including wearing apparel and personal belongings, fifty dollars, unless the innkeeper has consented in writing with the guest to assume a greater liability.
